Thought for the Day

What greater thing is there for two souls than to feel that they are joined for life—to strengthen each other in all sorrow, to minister to each other in all pain, to be one with each other in silent unspeakable memories at the moment of the last parting.—George Eliot.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles chaperoned a merry splash party at Eastlake Sunday afternoon. Swimming and canoeing was enjoyed during the first part of the evening after which a picnic supper was served and enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles, Misses Mae Stein and Edna Counts, Mr. Lee Stein and Mr. J. E. Phillips.

The weekly meeting of the reading club was held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. D. Carn. This organization which has proven one of the most enjoyable in the city, has just completed a splendid series of study, "The Education of a Music Lover," "History in Painting" and "Improvements of Towns and Cities," the latter being the closing study for the year. The club disbanded for the summer season, to reorganize early in October.

Miss Helena Lester, who has been so charmingly feted during her short visit with Misses Hester and Marian Dewey, returned to her home in Key West this afternoon, much to the regret of her hostesses and their friends.

Honoring their house guest, Miss Helena Lester of Key West, Misses Marian and Hester Dewey entertained the members of the Tuesday auction club yesterday instead of today, Miss Lester being obliged to return home today. The young ladies met at Miss Dewey's at 4:30. The three tables for cards were placed on the veranda. Besides the club members were Misses Alice Bullock, Mary Burford, Carol Perrenot, Adele Bittinger and Hope Robinson. A salad course with sandwiches and ice tea was enjoyed, Mrs. J. R. Dewey assisting her daughters in serving. The club prizes, two dainty powder puffs, were won by Misses Hope Robinson and Rosebud Robinson.

Two very charming young ladies from Worthington Springs, Misses Ethel Lamb and Grace Worsley, arrived Sunday evening and are guests of Miss Ellen Stripling.

Misses Mary Burford and Carol Perrenot returned yesterday afternoon from a week-end spent at the Lake Weir cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Camp.

Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Scott and little daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Scott and Mrs. J. H. Taylor returned yesterday from a two weeks' stay at Pass-a-Grille.

Mr. and Mrs. Allison Wartmann, who have been spending some time with Mrs. Wartmann's parents in Fordyce, Ark., are at home again, and were greeting friends in this city yesterday afternoon, returning to Citra late in the evening.

Mrs. Roy Bowers spent yesterday in town. She reports things at Camp Musco moving along splendidly. The boys of the camp are having a happy time, going in bathing, boat riding and taking long hikes, and the days are passing all too rapidly.

Miss Floyd Whittle has resumed her position at Rheinauer's after a vacation spent with friends at Eustis.

Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Lane are entertaining Miss Winnifred Cobb of Tallahassee.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Barnett and children and Master Alfred Blakeney returned yesterday afternoon from a lengthy stay at Lake Weir, where they went to enjoy the fine bathing and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Camp are spending a few days at home, coming up from the lake yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Tyson and little son returned home this afternoon from a visit to friends and relatives in Gainesville.

Miss Ethel Harrell, so pleasantly remembered in this city and a niece of Mrs. Clarence Camp, is spending this week at Ocean Pond near Valdosta, a member of a houseparty given by twenty-five Valdosta young men and members of the Ocean Pond Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Waterman are spending some time at Atlantic Beach, Mr. Waterman going over Sunday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Blalock went to Jacksonville yesterday afternoon. Dr. Blalock will return home today, but Mrs. Blalock will remain for a week's visit to Mrs. Jack Rentz and family.

Mrs. S. G. Moyers will spend tomorrow in Jacksonville, going up on the early morning and returning on the last evening train. Mrs. Moyers goes especially to witness the production of her latest play, "The Bride of the Sea," and incidentally to perfect arrangements for moving to that city to reside in the early autumn.

The Eastern Star sewing circle will meet at Yonge's hall Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and make final plans for the picnic to be given at Silver Springs August 31st.

Ocala Chapter No. 29, O. E. S., will celebrate the birthday of Robert Morris, founder of the order, by giving a basket picnic at Silver Springs, August 31st. The chapter has invited several other chapters to join them and a splendid time is anticipated.

Mrs. S. R. Whaley and daughters expect to leave tomorrow for a round of visits to friends and relatives in Madison and White Sulphur Springs.

Miss Mary Lee Hill is expected home from Knoxville, Tenn., on Saturday. She has been taking a summer course in one of the universities of that city.

Mrs. F. S. Sanders left yesterday for Opelika, Ala., to visit relatives there and in Auburn until Christmas.

Mrs. Mae Bingham returned yesterday afternoon from a visit to her brother, Mr. L. H. Bingham, and family, in Jacksonville.

Mrs. M. K. Bingham and her granddaughter, Miss Vivienne Eyleshimer will leave Thursday morning for a visit to friends in Winter Haven.

Mrs. W. M. Wagnon, after a most pleasant visit to her aunt, Mrs. D. M. Smith, in this city, left yesterday afternoon for her home in Tampa.

Mrs. T. J. Killebrew and children left yesterday for a summer visit to Newton, Ala.

An Ocala party consisting of Mrs. J. H. Taylor, Mrs. G. S. Scott and Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Scott left St. Petersburg for the Marion county seat and business center this morning. They enjoyed ten days spent in recreation at Pass-a-Grille.—St. Petersburg Independent.

Mr. W. B. Gallagher was accompanied to Inverness today by Misses Tommie Standley and Ellen Leigh.

Mrs. A. R. G. Morrison of Brooksville passed through the city yesterday afternoon en route to Jacksonville for a visit to her son, Mr. Gary Alexander.

Miss Minnie Lee Carlisle will leave next week for a visit to friends in Palatka, Brooksville and St. Petersburg.

The Star regrets to say that Miss Lillian Tweedy of DeLand, who is here on a visit to her mother, was taken quite sick yesterday. She is, however, somewhat better today.

Mrs. Harry Booth has gone to New York City to spend two months with her brother at his home there.

A Tall Boy.

Monte Cross, the old time shortstop, has a new story of Chris von der Abe, under whom Roger Connor worked in his early days in the majors. When the old St. Louis team was on the road Chris used to have business meetings of his team which outlasted a minstrel show. They were holding such a meeting in Chris' room on the eleventh floor of a New York hotel. Chris was presiding, and the players, ranged in rows, were skylarking like a lot of boys in school. Finally Chris became stern and demanded:

"Tommy Dowd, vot iss you laughing at?"

"Boy outside the window made a face at me," replied Dowd seriously.

"Clements," said Chris sternly, "pull down dot shade."—Exchange.

The Tree of Peace.

Oh, speed the moment on
When wrong shall cease and liberty and love
And truth and right throughout the earth
Be known
As in their home above.
Then shall all shackles fall; the stormy clangor
Of wild war music o'er the earth shall cease;
Love shall tread out the baleful fire of anger
And in its ashes plant the tree of peace.
—Whittier.

Useless to Call Him.

A highland man from Tabernory asked the price of a railway ticket from Oban to Killin of the clerk at the Oban railway station.
"So much," replied the clerk.
"Hoot awa," replied Donald; "It's far ower dear! I'd rather walk," and off he started.
He had not proceeded far when the train came tearing along, whistling as it neared a station.
"Ye needna whistle for me," said Donald. "I made ye an offer aince and ye wadna tak' it, sae ye can gang on. I'm no comin'."—Dundee Advertiser.

Too Late.

Dr. von Stephan, the German postmaster general, once took train from Koenigsberg to enjoy a few days' deerstalking. Arrived at Dirschau, a town near his destination, he stepped into the station telegraph office to send news of his safety to his wife in Berlin. The official recognized his chief at once and with all obsequiousness began to write down his message. Suddenly the Morse instrument, used for service telegrams only, began to work, and very shortly his excellency pricked up his ears, for he distinguished the particular clicks that represented his own name. A glance at the clerk's face, now deathly pale, induced him to inquire further into the purport of this state telegram, and when the clicking had ceased he took up the paper ribbon and read as follows:

"Look out for squalls. Stephan is somewhere on the line. He will be poking his nose everywhere."

The postmaster-general smiled sardonically and then went to the transmitter and flashed back this reply:

"Too late. He has already poked his nose in here. Stephan."

He Apologized.

The vice president of a certain railroad, so the story goes, was traveling incognito, and in the chief paint shop of the system encountered an Irish brush welder working in an apparently careless manner at removing paint from the side of a car. Upon remonstrating with the man he received this reply: "Ah, come now, go long wid yez. I guess I know me b'ness." The foreman painter roared at Pat and told him it was the vice president of the road and that he must apologize. So Pat solemnly went to apologize. He said to the official: "I apologize all right; I apologize for being impolite, but be jabas, I can't pay attention to every confounded fool that comes along."

He Needed the Clerk.

When Tim Campbell was in the Fifth congress he stole a clerk from Congressman Scott. Scott was a new member and was made chairman of a committee which gave him a clerkship. He knew nothing about the clerk; Campbell did. Through some means or another he had the clerkship transferred to his own committee. Six months later Scott learned of the trick. Meeting Campbell he said:

"That was a nice piece of petty larceny."

"Tut, tut, Mr. Scott," said Campbell: "my committee needed a clerk worse than yours." Then with twinkling eyes he continued, "You are a millionaire and can afford to hire half a dozen clerks, while I must go to the government for clerical assistance."

The ready reply amused Scott. The two men were always the best of friends thereafter.

The Emblem He Selected.

Lord Saye and Sele is a very strong opponent of "votes for women," apropos of which fact he has told an amusing story.

He once attended a book dinner, at which all the guests were expected to appear with an emblem denoting the title of a book. Lord Saye and Sele went in an ordinary evening dress, but he carried a lady's petticoat over his arm. No one could guess what book he represented, but when he told them every one was greatly amused.

His lordship's emblem represented Kylling's famous book "Life's Handicap." His lordship won the first prize.

RECOMMENDS CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Sol Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than any other preparation of like character. I have used it myself and found it gave me more relief than anything else I have ever tried for the same purpose." Obtainable everywhere.
